

GEORGIA HOTELKEEPERS TO GATHER DECEMBER 12

Guests From Many Large Cities Have Accepted Invitations
From Conventions

Final preparations practically have been completed and the full program arranged for the seventh annual convention of the Georgia Hotel Men's association to be held in Atlanta, December 12 and 13 following the Ohio state convention and preceding the Mississippi state convention by three days.

The gathering will be made notable by the presence of some of the most prominent hotel men in the United States representing the north, east and west. A special invitation has been extended to managers in Denver, Chicago, Philadelphia, New York City, Baltimore, Washington, Dallas, St. Louis, Kansas City and other cities, and already nearly a score have manifested their intention of coming.

A vanguard of the visitors, who will number approximately 200, is expected to reach the city the day before the convention is called to order by President T. W. Hooks, of the New Hudson hotel, Dublin, Ga. Others will reach here on November 12. The New Kimball hotel has been selected as headquarters and it is expected that the delegates will register and hold all conferences promptly at 10 a. m. Friday the convention will be held in the convention hall between the second and third floors, adjournment will be held at 1:30 o'clock for luncheon at the Kimball and after which the second business session will be held. In the evening beginning at 8:30 o'clock a "get-together" meeting and supper will be held at the Piedmont hotel. At the same time all visiting ladies will be entertained at the Kimball.

A feature of the gathering will be the meeting of the congress of hotel men and allied interests under the auspices of the association. The following morning at 10 o'clock. This will mark the final business session at which the officers will be elected for the coming year.

Adjournment will be followed at 1:30 with a luncheon at the Georgian Terrace hotel after which special care will be given the delegates and visitors to the business club for light refreshments during the day. The day will close with a business dinner at the Kimball hotel, where James H. Zimmer will act as host.

As a fitting climax to the two days of business intermingled with pleasure an association will be launched at the new Hotel Anley and treated to a banquet.

While the object of the organization is the promotion of the hotel industry, the association of a spirit of good will and the stimulation of the hotel industry, the subject of hotel legislation in the state will be the most important item for debate and definite action on the part of the association. During the course of the business sessions resolutions looking toward better protection to the hotels of Georgia through better laws will be passed and placed in the hands of a legislative committee to bring to a successful consummation.

The present special legislative committee is composed of J. Lee Barnes, chairman, Atlanta; Louis J. Binkley, Macon; H. N. Dutton, Atlanta; J. G. Wood, Atlanta; J. V. Letton, Atlanta; A. R. Keen, Atlanta, and W. M. L. Columbia.

The following well known hotel men compose the local committee on arrangements: J. P. Letton, manager of this hotel; William J. L. Brown, manager.

ENTERED IN POULTRY SHOW

This White Leg Horn Cornish cock will be entered at the head of a pen in the Southern International Poultry show in Atlanta by J. R. Cain, of East Point, Ga. This fancy variety has never competed before in a southern show. In fact, there are only one or two breeders in America, and the birds will, therefore, attract unusual interest.

RED CROSS SEAL SALES NOT UP TO STANDARD

Committee Urges Business Houses to Rush Orders for Little Stickers

Responses are coming in, but comparatively slowly, to the 4,000 letters sent out by the Atlanta Red Cross Christmas seal committee to the business houses of the city requesting them to make their purchases of seals as early as possible. In order that the use of them may begin on letters and statements on December 1.

While the replies received have been very gratifying, including as they do some good orders, they have fallen short of expectations so far, and the committee expresses the hope that all who can do so will send in their orders at once. The Boy Scouts of Atlanta, through Philip Wetmore, Scout master, have volunteered to help the cause during the month of December. Every boy in the regiment will get busy placing the seals wherever he can throughout the city.

Of the new Kimball, J. Lee Barnes, manager of the Majestic; H. N. Dutton, manager of the Piedmont; James T. Williams, manager of the Cafe DuPont; and Fred House, secretary of the association and the Atlanta convention bureau.

ENGINEER IS SHOT DEAD BY NEGRO HE STRUCK DOWN

Police Search for Will Ratchford, Accused of Slaying
Sidney Leonard in Yards

Sidney Leonard, a stationary engineer in charge of the crane at the Southern railway's coal station in Inman yards, was shot and killed by a negro, said by the police to be Will Ratchford, of 223-B Williams street, about 11:15 o'clock Tuesday evening.

According to the report of the killing made to the county police, Leonard engaged in a dispute with the negro about a "shaker bar," which lay on the tracks in front of an engine. Leonard was loading with coal. In the course of the dispute the engine became enraged, and struck the negro over the head with an iron bar. As the negro fell, he drew a revolver from his hip pocket and fired point blank at Leonard's stomach.

Leonard, not armed except for the bar, turned and ran across the main railroad tracks in Inman. Alvin Denchou, a white man employed as a fireman by the Southern, saw Leonard from a distance of about fifty feet and started running toward the negro, who jumped to his feet and dashed off in the darkness.

Denchou then turned and started looking for Leonard, but could not find him. A number of people were attracted and for twenty minutes they searched for Leonard, before they found his body where he had fallen in a gully on the far side of the tracks, about 100 feet from the scene of the shooting.

The county police were immediately notified, and a dragnet has been spread for the negro slayer. Nearly one-half of the total force is at work on the case, trying to find the traitor, but Tuesday it looked as if the negro had made good his escape.

Governor to Sound Bell Weevil Warning In Formal Message

Governor Shilton will soon issue a proclamation calling the attention of the farmers to this approach of the cotton boll weevil and urge upon them to destroy their crops so they will be in position to meet the invasion of the insect, which is expected to occur next fall.

The governor's promise to issue such a proclamation was made Tuesday afternoon to a committee from the state chamber of commerce. This committee was headed by President Charles J. Haden and Secretary C. D. McInnes. The other members were J. T. Hollen, H. G. Hastings, E. G. Kozar and Clark Howell.

Agricultural Commissioner J. D. Price accompanied the committee to the governor's office and joined with the members in requesting the governor to call on the farmers to prepare for the advance of the boll weevil.

Man yards near the scene of the tragedy, is survived by a widow and five children. He was forty years old.

HARD SCALY PLACE ON HEAD

Spread and Itched. Hair Fell Out. Could Not Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Now Well.

R. F. D. No. 2, Catonsville, Md. — "My trouble began with a hard scaly place about the size of a dollar on the side of my head, and it continued to spread it caused my hair to fall out gradually as it would come. At first it looked like a patch of dandruff. It itched and when I scratched it, it would make an inflamed sore. It gave me such fever I could not sleep at night. In two weeks the place was bald and it began to get packed and ugly. When I would wash it, it would bleed and afterward would form a yellow greenish looking eruption and it looked like it was beginning to eat into the flesh. It really gave me such a fever it made me sick."

"I used — and everything I could to cure for growth but they seemed to make it worse. Two friends recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I sent to the drug store and got some and used them and in a week there was a deal of improvement and in a month's time this place was well and a new growth of hair had formed." (Signed) William John, Mar. 8, 1912.

Not only is Cuticura Soap and Ointment most valuable in the treatment of eczema and other distressing eruptions of skin and scalp, but no other emollient does so much for pimples, blackheads, red, rough skin, itching, scaly, dandruff, dry skin, and falling hair, chapped hands and chapped lips. Do not fail to get the famous C. B. King case of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are sufficient.

GRASS AND LEAF FIRES DANGEROUS, SAYS CHIEF

Twenty-eight fires in one day is the new record Atlanta established Tuesday. Several of these were caused by persons setting the grass on fire, according to Chief Cummings.

PANAMA AND THE IN PICTURES AND PROSE

This book first takes you through the front door of Panama—through the islands along the way, describing the natives in picture and prose; thence you are taken to the isthmus and are shown the wonders of that unknown country—the people, their strange customs and lore, their costumes, their religions and politics, their peculiar characteristics; how they live—how certain natives eat lizards and hugely enjoy them—how they fish and hunt; their sports and pastimes; marketing bananas, shooting alligators, burning charcoal; ALL there is to know about these queer people, and MORE than has ever been told of the great waterway—from the whys and wherefores of its inception to the "ins and outs" of its construction—and on through to its completion—in all a beautiful human interest story that will charm the reader to the very last page.

IT IS A RARE TREAT FOR EVERYBODY

presents this book to its readers on the popular plan explained in the Panama Certificate printed daily in these columns.

Cut Out the Panama Certificate

THE LARGE VOLUME

is printed from new type, large and clear, splendidly bound, with inlaid panel showing the famous Culebra Cut in natural colors, and filled with magnificent illustrations, many of which are from water color studies in artistic colorings.

THE SMALL VOLUME

contains practically the same reading matter; is bound in blue velum cloth, but contains only 100 photographic reproductions, and the color plates are omitted.

ONE-CENT POSTAGE FIGHT EXPECTED IN CONGRESS

Dozen Bills Have Already Been Introduced Providing Change in Rate

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—One-cent postage promises to be one of the live issues of congress. A dozen bills already have been introduced and it is said about half of these provide for a one-cent postage.

It is pointed out by members interested in the subject that the probable increase in the parcel post revenue would make a one-cent postage a possibility without seriously harming the financial affairs of the postal service. Congress has already passed a bill providing for a one-cent postage, but it is not yet in force.

Senator Burton, of Ohio, has a measure that provides for a first-class rate of 1 cent per ounce. Several other bills establish the 1 cent rate where desirable to be made within the limits of the postoffice where the matter was raised.

$306,000,000 ESTIMATE FOR POSTOFFICE BUDGET

Burleson Asks Largest Sum Ever Made in Single Appropriation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Estimates totaling $306,000,000 for the postal service for the next fiscal year have been submitted by Postmaster General Burleson to congress. This total, if embodied as framed in accordance with the growth of the postoffice department, would make the greatest appropriation ever made in a single appropriation measure.

Hearings on the administrative provisions of the bill together with bills recently introduced by Chairman Brown, of the house committee on postoffice, regarding parcels post, indemnification, extension of money order paying business in every postoffice and other matters will be held by the committee next week. The estimates contemplate a substantial extension of the parcel post service, which branch is credited with a large part of the surplus of $50,000,000 earned by the postal service for the fiscal year just closed.

C. H. ASHFORD GIVES 25 ACRES ON PEACHTREE ROAD AS PART OF SITE FOR NEW OGLETHORPE

Donation Representing $50,000 Is Responsible for Committee Deciding to Locate University Near Silver Lake

"I gave because I believe in the great need that exists for just such an institution here as Oglethorpe university will be," is the statement of C. H. Ashford, who personally donated twenty-five acres on Peachtree road as part of the site for that institution. "I gave because I believe the Atlanta Spirit can be depended on to make Oglethorpe university a fact. I gave because I knew that even if I did give beyond my means, many Atlantians would be attracted by this motive that impels me and would do as they do."

Mr. Ashford's gift made him responsible probably more than any other man for the selection by the university committee of the site on Peachtree road near Silver Lake.

Mr. Ashford is not what would be termed a rich man as riches are measured in this time. Yet his donation represents a money value of about $50,000.

"I was deprived of an education in my youth," says he, "I realize what the deprivation means, and I felt I owed a duty to do so far as I could in a movement which would give better opportunities to the youth of this city. I am sure that many other southern youths missed the opportunity of an education prior to and after the Civil War."

Ashford's donation is a part of the sixty-acre site. The other part of

C. H. ASHFORD.

It was donated by the old Silver Lake Park company, with the use of the lake. The late purchaser of the tract, the Silver Lake estates, not only confirmed that donation, but added a $50,000 cash subscription.

CORN CLUB BOY HOMES FAR SHORT OF DEMANDS

High School Students Join in Campaign to Find Lodging for Young Farmers

The students of Atlanta's high schools are being marshaled now to complete the work of securing homes for all of the corn club boys who are to visit Atlanta next week for the Georgia corn and canning clubs' show. The chamber of commerce has enlisted their aid.

Wednesday morning the total number of boys provided for by last report was only 440, or slightly less than one-half of the great big company of young farmers who are coming.

Secretary W. H. Leahy, of the Atlanta industrial bureau, and a member of the corn show committee, appeared before the students of the Boys' High school and told them of the necessity that confronts Atlanta in the matter of taking care of these corn club boys. He distributed cards among them urging them to take the matter up with their parents and friends and to return these cards signed with the name and address and number of boys to be taken, to the Atlanta chamber of commerce as soon as possible.

The same presentation was made on Wednesday at the Tech High school before some 300 students, and at the Girls' High school before its 500 young lady students. Their interest was stirred in taking care of the boys who are doing so much for the development of the state.

It is confidently believed that some substantial results will be secured from this presentation.

A Staple Medicine for Every Family

No Self-Respecting Group of People Should be Without a Good Family Laxative.

It is impossible in this day of general intelligence that any family would be without a simple remedy for the minor ailments of life, for any family which is a remedy in time a serious disease is averted. For example, if at the first sign of a cold a simple laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin were given, the cold would be averted. A severe cold or a cold of the throat never might be avoided. A small dose of this remedy would relieve the congestion and replace the mucus with comfort. Mothers give it to their infants and their children, and give people take it with equally good effect.

Remedies of good American homes are never without it. Among them the name of Dr. C. A. Wright 1831 Panama Ave., Long Beach, Cal. She had considerable trouble raising little Lawrence, three years old, but after he began to have the bowels with small doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he began to thrive and she was able to get on with him. They use it generally in her home.

Syrup Pepsin saves the health of the family, and it saves doctor's bills. It is a guaranteed cure for any form of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, gas on the stomach, headache, drowsiness after eating, etc. Have no hesitancy about giving it to any member of the family, however young or old, for it contains nothing injurious to the youngest.

A bottle can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is more economical and is bought by those who have already convinced themselves of its merits. Syrup Pepsin were given to discard pills, salts, cathartics and purgatives generally as they are too great a shock to any average system.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

YOUR MONEY
 A PREACHER'S FORETHOUGHT FOR HIS LAST YEARS.
 BY JOHN M. OGBISON.

I have a friend, a retired preacher, seventy-four, a fine, sane, enthusiastic old man who loves to get out into the rough, open places as well as I do. He and I were riding, Indian file, across the rocky hills of Arizona when I asked him this question:

"Doctor, did you ever work out a plan for setting aside a part of your salary while you were active in the ministry?"

He whipped up his tired horse, and when he was close enough to make him hear, he told me of the method he had worked out to insure himself against going to a retired ministers' home and end his days. I wish I could repeat here all of what he said—it was a sound and sane a discourse on the functions of saving; but there is no room.

Briefly, the preacher's plan was this: At the time his first child was born, went to the treasurer of his church as he had a talk about endowment insurance. It was decided between them that the preacher should take out a policy maturing in thirty years, the premium of which would amount to $50 a year. Knowing that he could not save the amount (for the demands on the purse of a generous man on a small salary would never leave a surplus), the preacher stipulated that the treasurer should provide the $50 for the premium or the policy every year.

Ten years later the preacher was transferred to a bigger church in another city. By this time his family had increased in size and he concluded he ought to have more insurance. So he had a conference with the treasurer of the new church and arranged to double the amount of endowment insurance he carried. The total premium payment then amounted to $110 a year.

Year after year this insurance was carried. Premium payments continued long before the preacher retired, at

OGLETHORPE COMMITTEE WILL BE APPOINTED SOON

Capt. English Will Name 100
Business Men to Work for University

Atlanta's committee of 100 business men, to work for Oglethorpe university, will be announced within a few hours by Captain James W. English, its chairman.

The committee will meet as soon as it can be called together, and will be divided into sub-committees. Each of the latter will be furnished with a list of names and a particular territory to be covered in raising subscriptions for Oglethorpe.

One of the first things to be done will be to divide among the sub-committees the list of subscribers to the old university fund of eight or nine years ago. The sub-committees then will use the subscribers to that fund to renew their subscriptions for the establishment of Oglethorpe here, and to increase them wherever they will.

It was announced at a meeting in the chamber of commerce rooms Wednesday that there will be found in Atlanta more than 1,700 subscribers to the old university fund whose total subscriptions were approximately $150,000.

If these can be renewed for the founding of Oglethorpe, and it is believed there will be, it will be about the success of the plans for rebuilding the university.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.
It was an enthusiastic gathering of some fifty prominent Atlanta business men who met in the chamber of commerce at 11 o'clock Wednesday. Every man there practically committed himself to assist in every way possible the success of the plans for rebuilding the university.

Reports were read from Clark Howell, James W. Patterson, E. P. Ansley, John J. Woodside, F. S. Ellis, W. L. Post, Clyde King and others, stating that they were unavailably detained by previous engagements, but will be glad to lend whatever assistance they can to the movement.

"This is a public movement for Atlanta," Captain English said. "The press of the city is back of it, and now that we have started it, we must go through with it."

James H. Gray, of The Journal, stated that some 2,000 Atlanta business men subscribed to the old university fund eight or nine years ago, and that he was the large majority of these could be reached and requested to renew their subscriptions to the former fund. He suggested that these names should be distributed among the sub-committees to be appointed from the general committee, and that each sub-committee should be assigned a block or special district.

"I think a mere visit or perhaps a telephone call will be all that is necessary in the majority of these cases," Mr. Gray said.

He told how L. J. Daniel, who had given $200 to the old fund, had telephoned a subscriber to the new fund, the present movement, and how Joel Hunter, who gave $125 before, had been given a list of real estate conservatively valued at $100,000 which will help the committee to turn into cash.

Improvement Outside.
Mr. Gray declared that no question that after Atlanta has raised her share of a million dollars for the fund, she will be made to the fund from other sections of Georgia and the South, and that ultimately Oglethorpe university will be an institution with a million dollars in its treasury.

Dr. Thorneill Jacobs, secretary, explained that about 1,700 names had been received from the old list, and that these had given to the other fund approximately $150,000.

There were some questions asked as to the terms of the subscriptions, and the Captain English stated, would be left to the general committee. It was pretty well understood, however, that the subscriber might almost choose his own terms, that he might pay in cash or in installments covering a period of five years. There will, of course, be a cash payment in all cases, as soon as the fund is completed and work on the buildings is ready to begin.

H. H. Schuchard stated he would be glad to subscribe $250 and that he would render every possible assistance. He said he knows of many small subscribers he could secure, provided the terms he could secure, provided the terms are permitted to pay in small installments. The suggestion was considered a good one, and it was stated that the feature of the subscription, pushed by the committee so that everybody in Atlanta, no matter what his means, may be given opportunity of taking part in this important work for Atlanta.

TELLING REAL AGE QUEERS JOB FOR POLICEMEN

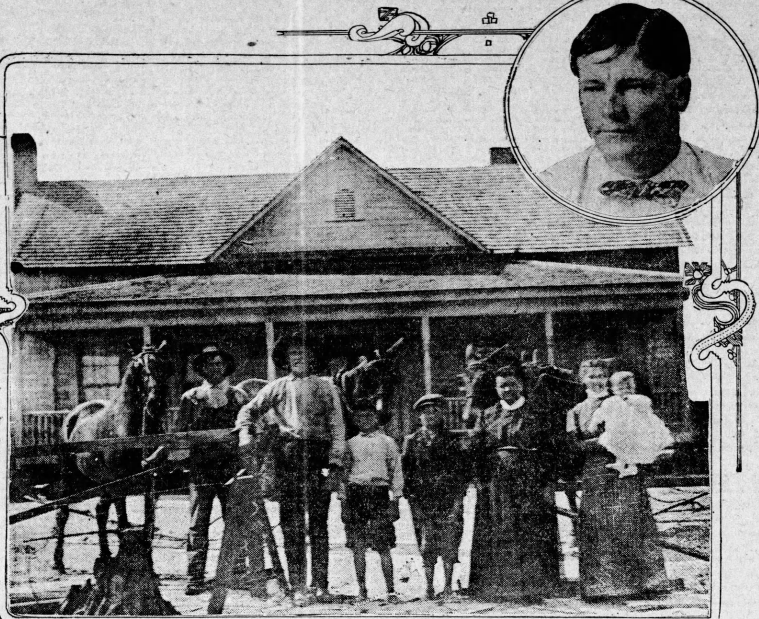

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Postponement until December 1 of an examination of candidates for police women was announced yesterday when a number of applicants told conflicting stories regarding their ages, thereby disqualifying themselves. One applicant said her age was twenty-seven, but when told she was too young, admitted she was thirty-one years old. Another, who made a similar "error," said she preferred using young "to getting on the force." The age limit set by the examiners was from thirty to forty-five years.

JURY MUST DECIDE ON REMOVAL OF BODIES

Court Is Asked to Construe
Will of Mrs. Mary J.
Rucker

A jury in Judge John T. Pendleton's division of the superior court must decide whether or not the bodies of the late Chapman Powell and his wife, which were interred in Decatur more than fifty years ago, shall be removed to a vault at Oakland or West View cemetery.

The grandchildren of the deceased object to the removal of the bodies from the Decatur churchyard, but their removal is one of the principal provisions of the will of the late Mrs. Mary J. Rucker, who devoted $15,000 of an estate valued at a quarter of a million dollars to the erection of a vault. Accordingly the executor, Charles J. McKinney, has asked the superior court to "construct the will and to decide whether or not the removal of the bodies is practicable and essential before the estate can be divided."

PASS ON REQUEST.
The case will probably not be concluded until Friday. Another point of interest to be decided is the status of a $5,000 bequest to the Presbyterian hospital, which no longer exists.

The principal heirs to the Rucker fortune are Mrs. Martha A. J. Powell, a sister of the deceased; G. L. W. Powell, a brother; P. T. Powell, Houston Powell, John C. Powell, Mrs. Mary Montgomery, Mrs. Anna Powell Liddell and Mrs. Mary P. Eberhart, nieces and nephews. There are several special bequests to other relatives, friends and servants.

Mrs. Rucker died several years ago, but her estate has never been out of the courts. Among the property of the estate is a lot on Alabama street near Forsyth, which Mrs. Eleanor Gumb's claim under a deed of trust in 1865.

Uresky's Wife Turns Her Back On Home of Parents And Defies His Accusers

Remains Loyal and Visits Husband in Jail Daily — Chemist Reports Poison Was Found in Flour That Made Entire Family Ill

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
HIALEAHURST, Ga., Nov. 26.—Despite the report of Dr. Edgar Everhart, of Atlanta, that strychnine was found in the flour alleged to have been poisoned by J. P. Uresky in an attempt on the lives of his father-in-law, J. G. Ross and family, Uresky's nineteen-year-old wife remains loyal and stoutly maintains her belief in his innocence.

The young wife has left her parents' home to live with the family of her husband's brother, because, it is said, of the attitude of her father toward Uresky. Daily she visits her husband in his cell here, she defies all his accusers.

The report of the Atlanta chemist has caused much comment here and feeling runs high. It is not known just when Uresky will be given a hearing in court.

Enough Poison to Kill Forty Men, Says Chemist

That strychnine was contained in the flour and the biscuit brought to Atlanta for chemical examination Tuesday by Dr. W. M. Girtman, a Hialeahurst physician, is the report of Dr. Edgar Everhart, of Atlanta, and the case against Patrick Uresky, of Hialeahurst, charged with attempting to poison his wife's family, takes on added interest accordingly.

Uresky is in jail in Hialeahurst, awaiting trial on the charge. His young wife, to whom he had been wedded but a short while before the alleged poisoning attempt, stated that she had been visiting him often in jail and asserting her belief that he is innocent. Her loyalty has won many supporters to the side of the suspected man.

S. D. Dell, a Hialeahurst attorney, employed to defend Uresky, scouts the theory advanced by those who make the charge against his client. Uresky, says Mr. Dell, is the unfortunate victim of a chain of circumstances. He says there cannot be anything to the supposition that Uresky attempted to poison his wife's relatives to inherit their money.

Dr. Everhart's report on his chemical examination is set forth in a letter to The Journal, of which the following is a copy:

"I have examined the sample of flour and the biscuits which you brought me this morning. In both of these samples, viz., the flour and biscuits, there was found a considerable amount of strychnine."

SIZES FOR QUANTITY.
Dr. Everhart is professor of chemistry at the Atlanta Medical college. He has made chemical analyses in several recent cases for the Georgia courts and is considered an authority in this work.

He stated Wednesday that he expected the quantity of the poison. His estimate was that there was enough strychnine in the flour and biscuits to kill fifty persons.

"But it was unevenly distributed," he said, "and to this fact the victims owe their survival. A little of the mixture would have proved fatal."

During his conference Tuesday morning with Dr. Everhart, Dr. Girtman asserted that a hitherto unpublished piece of evidence had been discovered in the statement of Dr. Edgar Everhart, of Atlanta, and the case against Patrick Uresky, of Hialeahurst, charged with attempting to poison his wife's family, takes on added interest accordingly.

Uresky's case is attracting wide attention. Shortly after his marriage to his wife, and to this fact the victims owe their survival. A little of the mixture would have proved fatal."

The Day We Stop and Think and Thank

It is a salutary thing for a nation as great and busy as ours to give over a day at this season to gratitude,

When we consider a moment, where does our prosperity come from, how is it that we are so blessed among nations?

For ourselves we trust that we shall never come to take Thanksgiving Day as a mere custom, but that we shall always look upon its recurrence as a day surcharged with meaning.

May it always enkindle within us, as it does now, deep gratitude to a kind Providence and to those about us who have done so much for us.

Tomorrow, then, we shall stop and think and thank while

CALL TO PRAYER SOUNDED TO OGLETHORPE FRIENDS

Dr. Hugh K. Walker Urges
Presbyterians to Unite in Appeal

At the meeting of the Atlanta Association of Presbyterian Ministers this week, substantial and unanimous agreement was given to the project to send Oglethorpe friends in Atlanta, and by special resolution Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was appointed to prepare a "call to prayer" to the Presbyterians of Atlanta for the success of the undertaking.

Dr. Walker has prepared and furnished for publication, in accordance with the action of the association, the following:

"The reuniting of Oglethorpe universally is a matter of vital interest to our entire community. Commercially, the advantages will be great, the hearty support of men, who are always eager to do everything in their power to advance the material welfare of this great city. Educationally, it will powerfully attract and command the sympathy of all those who are interested in the future of the city.

The education and broader culture of the young men of the southland, as well as that of the group of people who are deeply concerned in having a splendidly equipped university, that will be in a measure that has been called a coat of last resort in all things pertaining to the intellectual life of this entire section. But so people are more deeply or vitally interested than the thousands of church people who help to make up this city beautiful. Large amounts of money have already been subscribed by the religious leaders of this community, and much more needed from the laymen. It is the blessing of Almighty God upon this great enterprise. The Presbyterians of Atlanta are urged to unite in this appeal, and may crown their efforts with abundant success."

At a meeting to be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the special committee appointed at the last meeting of the city board of education will make its report to the committee on the subject of the public schools of Atlanta.

The committee which is composed of Councilman W. H. Daley, Dr. J. M. Anderson, and others, has been working very thoroughly into the educational and financial conditions of the schools in order to ascertain just what improvements are needed.

The board will also consider the question of whether or not Friday will be included in the Thanksgiving day of the school children. Hereafter the people have been requested to return Friday and finish out the week.

Chinamen Go to Court About Money Raised to Help Rebuild Empire

The fact that Chinamen living in Georgia raised $8,000 to assist Dr. Sun Yat Sen in establishing a new government in the ancient empire has become public through the filing of an indictment suit restraining the committee from appropriating the cash to the use of the subscribers.

The suit was brought in the name of the Chee Kong Tong, of which Linn Joe is president, and was directed against Lee Jim, Fong Sing and Charles Lee, Atlanta Chinamen, who were named when the money was collected, as a committee to send it to Dr. Sun.

Now that Dr. Sun is out of power and the money cannot be used for the purpose for which it was originally subscribed, Linn Joe, as president of the Tong, declares he wishes to refund it to the subscribers.

The committee, however, after he alleges, objects to this plan and would use it for other purposes. Accordingly the restraining order was sought and obtained December 12 before Judge John T. Pendergast. Attorney Eugene Thomas represents Linn Joe and the Tong.

Handsome Souvenirs Given
Guests at Banquet Board

The Rotary club ladies were given the most remarkable affair of its kind in the history of Atlanta.

It was a formal and elaborate affair attended by about fifty couples. The place cards were course longlets for the ladies and original pen-and-ink caricatures of the men. As souvenirs from various individual members of the club, the ladies were given the handsome hand-painted plate on which the main course of the dinner was served. They were presented with the individual coffee pot from which their after dinner coffee was poured, and were given the handsome brass and cut-glass candlesticks which helped ornament the table.

In addition to these and many other valuable souvenirs, the ladies, which were arranged in the form of the spokes of a rotary wheel with the president's table as the hub, were decorated in beautiful fashion with fresh cut roses.

A brilliant speaking program was carried out, but probably the most interesting feature of the dinner was a series of impromptu speeches given by the ladies. Some of them nearly fainted when they first heard they were going to be called on, but each and every one rose heroically to the occasion.

Here's how the ladies happened to be called on. The established custom at all Rotary club dinners for the secretary to call the roll and read each man's name is called by the president's table as the hub, were decorated in beautiful fashion with fresh cut roses.

TESTIMONY OF WOMAN ATTACKED BY HUSBAND

Witness in Lee Will Case Says
Wife Influenced by Contestant

The testimony of Clinton Henderson was the feature of the trial of the Lee will case before Judge George L. Holt in the superior court Wednesday.

Henderson, who is the husband to one of the witnesses to the alleged will, testified that he was introduced to Mrs. Emma G. Lee, was introduced to her by the attorneys or Mrs. La Rue Lee.

Miss Lee, the caveator, who is attacking the will proposed by her two sisters, Mrs. Maud Lee Thompson and Mrs. Claude Lee Stamp, testified that she was completely under the influence and domination of Mrs. Thompson. He declared his wife told him nothing about witnessing a will until she was called to court.

The will, which is being contested, divides Mrs. Lee's $50,000 estate equally among her three daughters, Mrs. Maud, claims her mother intended to leave her the entire estate, and charges she did not actually sign the document procured as her will by the other two daughters.

Another witness, Henry Pickett, called at the Travelers' Bank and Trust company, testified Wednesday that in his opinion Mrs. Lee did not sign the alleged will. She kept an account at the bank, and he has been familiar with her signature for years, he testified.

The Saving of Money by the use of Royal Baking Powder is considerable

Royal is economical, because it possesses more leavening power and goes further. Royal saves also, because it always makes fine, light, sweet food, all digestible; never wastes good flour, butter and eggs.

More important still is the saving in health. Royal Baking Powder adds anti-dyspeptic qualities to the food.

There is no baking powder so economical in practical use, no matter how little others may cost, as the Royal

INTERESTING WEDDINGS

Wilson-Langford

The wedding of Miss Claire Langford and Mr. Wilford Perry Wilson was an event of Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock at the West End Presbyterian church, the Rev. William E. Hill officiating.

Palms and ferns and many handsome white chrysanthemums formed an attractive setting for the bridal party.

The bride, who entered with her father, Mr. J. R. Langford, wore her going away gown of blue chiffon broadcloth, the short coat opening over a blouse of lace and broadcloth, upon which was introduced soft fur. A small close-fitting model in fur was the hat worn, and a corsage of bride's roses and lilies of the valley gave a pretty finish to the costume. She carried an ivory prayer book which was the gift of her maternal grandfather.

Miss Annie Laurie Langford was maid of honor and wore a draped gown of blue crepe meter with a hat to match and carried pink carnations.

Mrs. W. W. Stanley was best man. Her formal reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in Westborough, where a few intimate members of the family connection and intimate friends were present.

Assisting in receiving were Miss Minnie Cole, Mrs. John A. Simonton, Mrs. Earl H. Waldrop, Mrs. Fred M. Powers, Mrs. R. Noble Barlow, Jr., and Mrs. J. Langford, Corners, Ga.

Punch was served by Misses Ada Booth, Miss Frances Godbee and Miss Reuben Hargis.

Upon their return from their wedding Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will be the guests of their parents during the holidays.

Of interest is the marriage of Miss Allene Pullen and Mr. Elmer Cox, which was solemnized Sunday at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Stanford, in Cartersville, in the presence of relatives and few intimate friends.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Thomas Stanford, of Savannah, an uncle of the bride.

The bride was a picture of girlish beauty, her dress of white tulle, white crepe and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses.

Her only attendant was Miss Edna Walraven, of Atlanta, who also wore white crepe.

Mr. Cox was attended by Mr. Wright Pullen, the brother of the bride. Yellow and white were the colors used in the house decorations.

The imprimatur before which the ceremony was performed was of blank white chrysanthemums and pansies shown here and there in clusters. In the dining room the tables were covered with yellow and white were used, the centerpiece being a tall basket of these flowers with handles tied with yellow and white tulle.

Healthy, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

(From The Woman Beautiful.)

A dull, drab, muddy complexion, or an even less happy, simply or freckled skin, can by a quite simple, harmless and inexpensive method, be changed to one of flower-like radiance and beauty. One ounce of common norelaxin wax, sold by druggists generally, will remove the most unsightly complexion in from one to two weeks. By its remarkable absorbing power, the withered, faded or discolored layer of thin film-skin which hides the healthier skin underneath, is gradually flaked off in tiny, almost invisible particles. This is done so gently there is no inconvenience, and no time is left of the skin except that of enhanced beauty. The wax is smeared like cold cream before retiring, and removed in the morning with warm water.

If the skin is wrinkled or saggy, a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered norelaxin in 1-2 pt. which haze will be found most effective. Combining both norelaxin and tonic properties, this tightens the skin and braces up its supporting muscles.—(Adv.)

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1914.
A day in which wise men and women will act with discretion. Astrology interprets the stars as contradictory in their influences, for while Venus, Jupiter and the sun are all in friendly aspect, Saturn is in a place which produces results of power.

While Saturn is adverse, the influences are believed to tempt persons to delay important work and to slight tasks which involve large results. Loss of friends and business through avoid, envious and covetous feelings is common.

Although Venus encourages romance, the malign influence of Saturn may operate to produce lack of confidence and severe depression.

Actors, singers and artists of every vocation should benefit, under this configuration. The evening should be auspicious for new ventures. There is a sign read as promising to a prima donna of American birth.

Under this rule it is said to be lucky to wear or to bestow emeralds, sapphires, lapis lazuli and corals.

Jupiter's force is held as encouraging, although and honesty. Negotiations with persons of distinction should be successful, while the planet is friendly.

Bankers, lawyers, physicians, clergymen and all who deal in woolen goods should prosper to some extent. The moon is in a sign that is conducive to success for all domestic relations and a sense of duty.

There is a prediction of disaster in an American city. Foreign seas foretell a calamity that will shock the whole country.

Owing to the malefic power of Mars and Neptune, war is predicted for the new year. Several European countries will be involved.

Persons whose birthdate it is have a lucky omen for a marriage. They will prosper in love and business. There is a happy augury for all domestic relations.

Children born on this day have friendly guidance from the stars. They should have superior mental qualities.

Strongest Tech Lineup of Season Will Go Against Clemson

Clemson Team Stronger Than In Many Years

South Carolina Tigers are in Great Form for Thursday's Clash With Tech at Grant Field—Line-Up Problematic, as Williams Has Many Star Players

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) CLEMSON COLLEGE, Nov. 25.—The Clemson Tigers have sharpened their claws and their teeth for the last grapple, which will be in Atlanta against the Yellowjackets, of Georgia Tech, on Thanksgiving day. Coach Williams put his men through the last scrimmage Saturday afternoon and now doing light signal practice, running punts, and putting on the finishing touches.

The team has been showing marked improvement for two weeks, and the enthusiasm evident among the players and the roster is very strong. And yet there is no tendency to overconfidence, for Clemson knows that to beat Tech is no child's play and that the odds are somewhat against them. The fact is the Jackets. But Clemson wants to win, hopes to win, and expects to win, from her dearest foe, and it is not to be denied that the odds are in her favor. They may be, but the odds are not the only thing that counts. The Clemson supporters, accompanied by the Clemson players, are going down to Atlanta this day to see what can be done by good material—the best that Clemson has had in several years—by proper coaching and by enthusiasm and the never-fading spirit.

All of the old agrarians, "horses" and others, believe that the Clemson team is now and except for a few recent upsets and other things, the team is in good physical form and ought to play better than it has in this season—which is saying something. The lineup is problematic, for while there are certain things that are sure to be done in the direction of line football, that they must be counted on. The question of the final lineup. That question will not be settled until the hour. Such men as Hinkle, Major, L. D. Hinkle, Harvey, Chapman, and others may be at the final reckoning. The lineup at the lineup, which will be settled by the direction of the coach. The lineup at the lineup, which will be settled by the direction of the coach. Besides the main show, which will be staged in Atlanta, there will be a number of other games. The lineup at the lineup, which will be settled by the direction of the coach. Bob Is Through With Football

McWhorter, Great Georgia Champion, Will Not Don Gridiron Suit Again, He Says

"I have played my last game of football," said Bob McWhorter, Wednesday morning at the Terminal station just as he boarded the 11:30 New York special. "Saturday's game against Auburn was my last, and I never again expect to put on the monkey breeches for a gridiron contest."

The Red and Black captain, accompanied by two other Georgia students, is now on the way to New York to look over the light night as a vacation from the hard football grind of the season just finished. They expect to attend the Me Army-Navy game at the Polo grounds Saturday and have had their sports engaged several weeks in advance.

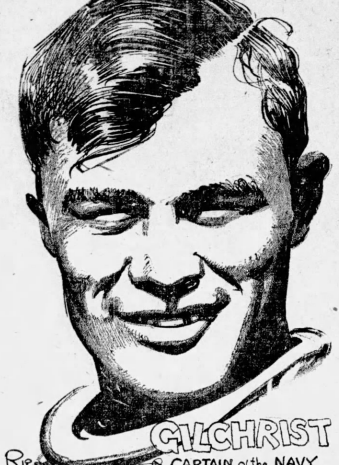

McWhorter displayed his usual modesty, and beyond answering questions refused to talk about himself. He was willing to do up the Tech-Clemson game, which will be played at Grant field Thursday. In McWhorter's opinion, Clemson has the edge on Tech, and he looks for the South Carolinian to come home winner in the clash. Unless Tech has greatly improved since their game with the Yellowjackets, he has gone back. I look for the Palmettoes to win," said McWhorter. "Clemson is especially strong on the offense. When they get on the field, they are points on Georgia in the game at Augusta. The Clemson team is very strong and will have much harder for Georgia to break through than Tech's."

Tech's chief hope lies in forward passes and other trick plays. If Tech does win it will be on the kind of football.

McWhorter expects to take law next year, but has not yet decided on the college he will attend. He is considering Michigan, Virginia and Princeton, but so far it is a case up in the air. He will attend Intercollegiate rules that McWhorter from playing on the team of any of these colleges even though he has the desire to play. He has played years of college football, and in all college organizations he is a hardy and determined player. He expects to devote all his time to law. "I understand that studying a profession takes all one's time and is not like playing football," he said. "I would like to have little time to play on or 'class teams'."

LEADER OF NAVY ELEVEN

MANY OLD TIMERS CANNED IN SOUTHERN THIS YEAR

CAPTAIN OF THE NAVY

CHATTANOOGA, Nov. 26.—Mike Finn, in discussing practically every member of the "Old Ladies' Home," last season, has not a piece that's being followed by other managers in the Southern league. While others didn't have so many old-timers to turn loose, many of them are saying goodbye to the stars of other seasons and looking for to be discarded.

At least eight veterans will be missing next year from the battle front of the Chattanooga. Bill Abstein, Doc Resch, Hugh Ward, Rudy Bernhardt, Al Schwartz, and Paton. High Jennings deplimented the Memphis as an "old-timer" home last spring. Finn will make a credit outfit of them next year. LARRY H. ALLEN, a pitcher of only one old-timer—Whitney Alperman—and he it remained that Whitney goes to his own accord. Joe Dunn may depart. Many managers due to the discard last spring, though, and he resolutely refused to be discarded.

The kid didn't cotton to the old-timers. He was the only veteran Southern leaguer on the Chattanooga roster. Mike Jordan—old, before the season started.

Mobile, according to reports, is also to get rid of vet. Heine Berger. Somehow or another Mobile fans don't seem to think Berger is there with the goods. They were not on Hinkle's trail during the bag end of the season, so much so that Finn did not dare take a chance with him in any of the games played against Atlanta, when one would have clinched the race for the Gulls.

Berger's form indicated he was strictly a front-runner, and because of the fact the Gulls roared on him in his home games, may get by a part of the season, but as soon as he starts losing to the Volunteers, he will be discarded.

READY FOR THE DISCARD.

East Flinn and Bud Dyer, together with Charlie Case, seem ready for the discard. Dyer was loaned out of a part of the season to the Pelicans and played rather ordinary ball. As for Flinn, he looks as if he shot his bolt when Moleworek released him to the Volunteers. Nashville fans are also crying for his head, and since Hill Schwartz has his outfield and pitching staff shaped for the 14 season, Dyer and Flinn may find themselves looking for jobs.

Case lasted the recent season through on sufferance, though he is still a fairly good twirler. His ability to guess hits, especially youngsters, may keep him in Montgomery for a while longer. The kid may be a pitcher on a pitcher on whom he can't depend.

THE MYSTIC TRAIL.

Thanksgiving Day--At countless boards the home clan gathers face to face. The circle forms and heart to heart they pludge the kinship of the race. So on the off-trail, man to man, we'll still pledge with a smiling eye. To the Trail that never will carry us back-- And then to dream, as the dusk grows black, a dream that will never die.

Thanksgiving Day--Well, we too know what home meant in the years that were; What home (as it mattered here where alien shadows drift and blur); So on the off-trail, man to man, we'll still pledge with a smiling eye. The Trail that beckoned us with its plea From home and those we shall never see-- And then to dream, as it used to be, a dream that will never die.

Yale and Princeton are looking forward to another clash with Harvard next fall almost as eagerly and joyfully as the Giants are looking forward to another mixup with the Athletics.

We may be comical in the conk, but our idea of nothing to look forward to is a chance to pitch a baseball at Baker and Collins or an opportunity to outkick Brickley and tackle Mahan. If the future held nothing for us beyond these dreams--well, we'd take a chance on facing what dreams might come when we have shuffled off this mortal coil. Not for a second would they "give us pause."

THE EASTERN ATTACK.

We knew it was coming. Yesterday's words were scarcely off the press before an episode was started our way assailing our hope about the lack of variety in the eastern attack in football.

The writer goes on to explain that Yale or Princeton defense would make any forward pass or western attack look extremely foolish and useless at every turn.

How does any one know what Yale and Princeton would do if it ever used a varied, versatile or open attack? The forward pass as an institution is now eight years old and we will present a large action snapshot of Washington Crossing the Delaware's goal line to any one who will show us where, through that period of time, either Princeton or Yale has ever attempted an up-to-date, varied pass in a big battle.

Harvard at present isn't called upon to try any innovation. She has the power to rush the ball with striking distance and at this point Mr. Brickley takes charge, and the rest is simple. But what show have Yale and Princeton, playing 1901 football, against a contender who can beat them to a frazzle from the field?

A ROAR FROM HANOVER.

Dear Sir--Please tell me upon what ground Harvard is awarded the eastern championship this season? Dartmouth did better work against Princeton than Harvard did--and while Carlisle beat Dartmouth, has any one seen Harvard putting Carlisle out? Beating Yale and Princeton and beating Carlisle are not exactly the same. Ask any competent critic and he will tell you that the Indians are two touchdowns better than either Princeton or Yale.

Any football championship is a deadly myth. Harvard was awarded first place because she traveled through the year unbeaten, while both Dartmouth and Carlisle were toppled. The Navy also has been unbeaten to date, and if victorious over the Army, will also enter its claim. So far as we are concerned they can all claim it. For, after all, there isn't any winner.

The western tangle is even worse than the east, which isn't so much of a tangle after all. Chicago has nailed down the conference title after a very fine year--a notable victory for Stagg. The Michigan Aggie went through without defeat and so did Notre Dame and Nebraska. So at this writing there are, east and west, at least six unbeaten eleven in football for 1913.

If any one tells you there isn't anything wrong with Yale football, request a reason for six touchdowns seasons in succession against the nation. In 1911 Yale team have had the ball for over six hours against Harvard without pushing it across the goal line. And Germany's field goal was the first score of any sort Yale has made against Harvard since 1909.

OUR ALL-AMERICAN SELECTION.

Center--Brickley.
Right Guard--C. Brickley.
Left Guard--Chas. Brickley.
Right Tackle--Charles Brickley.
Quarterback--Charles Edward Brickley.
Left Half--Charles E. Brickley.
Right Half--Chas. E. Brickley.
Pulback--Mr. Brickley.

This wonderful eleven has already shown its possibilities. So far this season it has beaten Yale and Princeton with ease. Here we have combined a strong rushing team, a hard blocking aggregation, a hard tackling outfit and a wonderful array of drop kicking talent. There may be other teams just as good, but they haven't shown it yet in the full box scores.

Map Rucker May Be Traded For Herzog and Marquard

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.--Reports of a deal between the New York and Brooklyn National League clubs by which Map Rucker, the star left-hander of the Brooklyn team, is to be traded to the Giants for Charlie Herzog and Rube Marquard, were persistent in baseball circles here last night, although officials of both clubs could be found to confirm them. It is known that McGraw has been anxious to get Rucker.

TOURING BALL PLAYERS UPSET BY THE PACIFIC

RADIO, Viva Victoria, B. C. S. S. Impress of Japan, Nov. 25.--It's a gay life, this, bounding over the Pacific ocean with those globe trotting ball teams, the White Sox and Giants, but what puzzles every one concerned is where the ocean got its name. The general cry from those making their first ocean journey is, "if this pound is calm, where are we going to be when we hit the Atlantic on our return trip?" One thing is sure, the promoters of this scheme made an awful "home play" when they arranged for the trip on the American plan. We are 1,600 miles out and twenty members of the party are still in their cabins. Look at the coin Comiskey and McGraw would have saved paying only for the meals consumed. The tourists have been on the water a week now and we have not yet been able to get a line on just who is making the trip. The athletes are having a tough time of it. In short, but their wives are getting along in grand style. The old story of a well trained man being hit harder by sea sickness than any other person seems to be holding good on this jaunt. Nearly all of the women have been on deck for the past two days, for they were sick only a day or so. You can imagine how bad some of the members are when it is learned that Germany Schaefer has been unable to sing or Steve Evans talk since we boarded this craft.

TENER TELLS HIS VIEWS ON BASEBALL POLICIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.--Here are the six cardinal views of Governor John K. Tener, of Pennsylvania, who has accepted a four-year term as president of the National league at a salary of $25,000 per year upon the great national game.

1. The game must be kept absolutely clean.
2. Baseball needs no doctor. If everything else were as healthy as baseball, physicians would go out of business.
3. Present day ball players are no better than the old-time players, but they give more attraction to detail.
4. Mathewson should not be allowed to quit the game. A man who has his ability should get a club franchise when his playing days are over.
5. Tinkler rules the field, but at the same time should consider the public.
6. I am proud of having been a professional baseball player.

In an interview published here today, Governor Tener, who will be the highest paid man in baseball when he is officially chosen to head the National league, pointed out what he will try to do when he takes office.

"I will try to assume the role of doctor," said Mr. Tener, a big robust six footer. "It will be my purpose to see that the game is kept sanitary and avoid the little things which might tend to bring on disease. Baseball is healthy."

Joe Walcott, Ex-Star Fighter, Gets Six Months in Jug

BOSTON, Nov. 25.--Joe Walcott, a well known negro welterweight pugilist of a decade ago, was sentenced to six months in the house of correction yesterday after the police of the South End station had told a story of several raids and liquor seizures at the fighter's home. Walcott claimed that he had a gymnasium in his house where he had been boxing.

Captain Aubrey Brings $3,150

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.--A horse for harness horses took a jump yesterday at the old glory sale held in Madison Square Garden. Captain Aubrey, brought $3,150, the top price of the day. T. A. Crowe, of Ontario, was the purchaser. Lowell Azeworth, a yearling colt, was sold to A. L. Thomas, of St. Joseph, Mo., for $1,600.

Tinker Let Out By Cincinnati

Manager and Club Could Not Come to Terms--Fletcher Jones May Be New Leader

(By Associated Press.) CINCINNATI, Nov. 25.--It was officially announced by the board of directors of the Cincinnati Baseball club late yesterday that Joe Tinker, manager of the team last season, would not manage it during the season of 1914. Inability to come to terms with Tinker is given as the reason for reaching this conclusion.

The news that Joe Tinker was not to be manager of the Cincinnati team for the 1914 season came as a great surprise to the fans of this city.

No insinuation of the new manager has been given by club directors, but it is intimated that the release of Fletcher Jones by the Chicago Americans may have some bearing on the situation.

Sons of Penn Take Fast Signal Drill

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25.--Pass signal drills constituted yesterday's practice of the University of Pennsylvania football team at the White Marsh Country club in preparation for the game with Cornell Thanksgiving day. The Ithaca eleven now is at Atlantic City.

Minds, the star fullback, who had been on the side lines because of an injury, was in his practice again today.

Welsh Licks Bloom

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.--Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of England, outfought and outboxed Phil Bloom of Brooklyn, in a ten-round bout here last night.

BOSTON OUTFIELD FROM THE SAME MINOR LEAGUE

BOSTON, Nov. 25.--Probably for the first time in the history of major league baseball a major league team next season will have an entire outfield that graduated from the same minor league lot. The Boston Nationals have drafted Larry Gilbert from Milwaukee, Pete Compton from Kansas City and Duke Zwilling from St. Joseph--and every one of them is a Battle Creek player who jumped to bigger fields.

Compton was sold to the St. Louis Americans. Last fall St. Louis let him go to Kansas City, where he proved a whiffwind.

Zwilling came to Battle Creek in 1910 from May City. He batted .328, third man in the league, and was sold to the Chicago White Sox, who later let him go to St. Joseph, Mo.

Larry Gilbert joined the club as a left-handed pitcher. In 1912 Manager McKernan decided to make him an outfielder for his hitting. Milwaukee took him in the spring of 1912.

The 1913 draft included all three, and by and odd turn of fate Boston got them all.

Cornell Finishes Training for Penn

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 25.--Ideal football weather favored the Cornell team yesterday when the men were put through several hours of stiff signal practice at the inlet park for final work before the annual game with the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia Thursday.

The Cornell squad arrived here yesterday from Ithaca and will remain under way Thursday morning when the players will leave for Philadelphia.
